Romulus Library joins state program

The Romulus Public Library will be among the libraries participating in the "Michigan Activity Pass presented by The Library Network," which debuted recently.

The Library Network, the Institute of Museum and Library Services, the Library of Michigan Foundation, and CultureSource will partner on the program with the nearly 400 public libraries and 60 arts and cultural organizations in Michigan. The program is designed to enhance the learning experience for people of all ages through books and other library materials, and to provide reduced cost or complimentary access to arts and cultural organizations across the state of Michigan, from Monroe to Mackinaw City to Marquette, and all points in between, a spokesman noted.

"The Library Network is thrilled with the response to the program from our cultural partners and we're pleased to be able to present this program in conjunction with the Institute of Museum and Library Services, the Library of Michigan Foundation, and CultureSource," said Jim Flury, Technical Services manager and Michigan Activity Pass administrator at The Library Network in Novi. "We're thankful to the many generous participants from the libraries and arts, cultural and historical organizations who have so warmly embraced this program. We encourage Michigan's public library patrons to 'Soar and Explore' all the unique opportunities that are available to them in the Michigan Activity Pass program."

"Michigan Activity Pass presented by The Library Network" will be available at all Michigan public libraries. Some of the participating cultural partners include the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Upper Peninsula Children's Museum in Marquette, the Monroe County Historical Museum, the Icebreaker Mackinaw Maritime Museum in Mackinaw City, and many others.

Library users with a valid library card can print a pass, either from home or at the library, to one of the nearly 60 participating institutions at the <http://michiganactivitypass.info> website. Some cultural partners offer complimentary or reduced price admission.
